

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

What kind of a democracy are we living in? Please be fair and make the airwaves representative of our public. If you must air something against Kerry, then air something FOR Kerry immediately following.

I am sorry that our country's people cannot get the "news" the REAL news that represents what is really happening in the world. This used to happen to other countries and this is why we were taught that democracy was a good thing. If you allow media control to function in this way, the USA is no better than a dictatorship.

Sincerely,
Sandy Simon
